THE VISION OF NCCU LIES WITHIN US!

What is the vision of NCCU? Where does it lie? We, the students, faculty and staff collectively, are NCCU and the vision lies within each one of us. NCCU serves the purpose of motivating, stimulating, and cultivating our development. As a vital part of this university, we have the capacity to fully understand that we owe a "SERVICE" of restoring our vision of NCCU. We are obligated to the past, to the future and to ourselves to fully understand that the fate of NCCU is in our hands. It is our commitment to our beloved founder, Dr. James E. Shepard to restore his legacy of dear old N.C.C., so that his dream may grow and prosper through us. It is good to have dreams, but it is even better to turn those dreams into reality. Let us work together to turn our dreams of NCCU into reality. THIS IS WHERE THE VISION LIES.

The vision runs from the sloping hills to the verdant green and is reflected in our collegiate colors of maroon and gray. We are EAGLES in flight and we dare to be challenged. This beautiful vision began, many years ago, that we shall soar as eagles to higher peaks and that we shall bring forth a brighter day. We shall work together to transcend that EAGLE PRIDE and spirit THIS IS WHERE THE VISION LIES.

The vision of NCCU is within our pride and distinction and it lies within our renewed determination for achievement. Our will is to excel, the wisdom to succeed. Thereby resulting our credo, "EXCELLENCE WITHOUT EXCUSE, A SHARED RESPONSIBILITY." THIS IS WHERE THE VISION LIES.

Let us not divest from NCCU, but let us invest in NCCU. Our goal is to maintain and create a NCCU that exemplifies the philosophy of Dr. James E. Shepard. We accept the "TRUTH."

THE HISTORY OF NORTH CAROLINA CENTRAL UNIVERSITY

North Carolina Central University was established in 1910 by Dr. James L. Shepard as the National Training School and Chatauqua. Unlike many predominately black universities which are now state supported, Dr. Shepard's school was not denominationally affiliated. The founder was active in the Chatauqua and the International Sunday School Association movement. It was from that ecumenical perspective that he established a school with many purposes, this institution provided secondary education, trade courses, short courses for church workers and baccalaureate programs in the classics and the sciences. The school suffered many financial hardships. In 1915, after bankruptcy proceedings were solved, the institution was recognized as the National Training School with its program primarily that of a secondary academy, although college level degrees were offered. In 1923, Dr. Shepard faced the choice of affiliating with a denomination for support, or seeking state assistance. He chose the second option, and the school became the Durham State Normal School. Two years later it became the North Carolina College for Negroes to receive state support.

In 1939, still under the leadership of Dr. Shepard, the school was authorized to offer graduate and professional programs. The school graduate school was opened that fall, the law school in 1940, and the school of library sciences in 1941.

By the time of Dr. Shepard's death in 1947, the institution had grown to a $1,000,000.00 enterprise of considerable stature. One year later, it became the North Carolina College at Durham.

For a brief period, an interim committee directed the school. Dr. Alfonso Elder became the institutions second president. Under Dr. Elder, the institution continued to grow. Most of the new buildings on the campus date to Dr. Elder's administration. Dr. Elder who retired in 1963, continued his affiliation with the institution as its president emeritus, until his death in 1974.

Dr. Samuel Proctor Massie was president for the period 1963-1966. In 1966, he joined the faculty of the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, Maryland. Again in transition, an interim committee assumed the functions of the chief administration officer until Dr. Albert S. Whiting became president in 1967. In 1969, the institution became North Carolina Central University, one of the sixteen tax-supported institutions of higher education which compose the University of North Carolina System.

Dr. Whiting established an Academic Skill Center, a four year nursing program, an elementary education program with emphasis on competency based training, programs in jazz and sacred music, in public administration criminal justice and in media journalism.

The University offers the bachelors degree in twenty-seven areas in the arts and sciences and the master's degree in business, and the juris doctor and bachelor of law degrees, and the master's of library science degree.

Currently, North Carolina Central University enrolls nearly 5,000 students in five schools: The undergraduate and Graduate Schools of Arts and Sciences, The School of Business, The School of Law, and the School of Library Sciences.

NCCU engages in athletic competition in Central Intercollegiate Athletic Association (CIAA) with teams in basketball, football, tennis, and track. In addition, there are women's teams in softball, basketball, and volleyball. There are also Intramural activities available for both men and women.

The University has a Honors Program, and many academic and cultural organizations.

Among its alumni are Mayor Jackson, Mayor of Atlanta, Clarence Lightner, former Mayor of Raleigh, North Carolina, Ronald Barbee, judge of N.C. Superior Court; Sam Jones, former all pro basketball; and many other successful individuals in business, education, law and medicine are graduates of North Carolina Central University.

NCCU Helps Jessie

N.C.C.U. helped Jesse "keep hope alive". "It's not your aptitude, but your attitude that determines how high you get in life." If there is anyone who can get a message across it is this man. The Reverend Jesse Louis Jackson. Rev. Jackson touched the hearts of so many as he spoke about the importance of voter registration. Every black person, eligible, should be a card carrying registered voter. "If Mandella can sit in jail for twenty-six years for the right, then no one can say they have self-respect if they are not a card carrying registered voter," said Jackson. He also reminded us of the four little black girls that died in a church in Alabama and that Rev. Dr. Martin L. King was shot to death for the right to vote.

"If dogs can raise their puppies . . . if cats can raise their kittens . . . if eagles can take care of their eaglets until they can fly . . . and if snakes can watch their little snakes 'til they shed," thundered

Jackson, "surely a young black man can take care of his own." Of course Jesse was not going to touch one subject and leave. Not only did he speak of our responsibilities, but our morals also. "Young women, your place is in the House, the House of Representatives." If there was one day in which we could all look back and smile with pride, it would be the day that the Reverend Jesse L. Jackson came to North Carolina Central University.

"it's not your aptitude, but your attitude!"

Registration Blues

"meditation in motion"

The days of selecting classes in Farrison-Newton Communication Building is becoming a ritual during registration. Since registration has been moved many students dread this and many others just cope with the headaches. The computer-age has taken NCCU by storm and has surely intrigued many of the faculty, staff, and students. Registration can only get better, but it takes all of us working together to make the system better. It has been recognized by Ms. Lola McKnight, Financial Aid Director, that all students file their packets early, properly and adequately to insure that their financial aid paper work will be in order. This somehow always seems to slow the process down for many. On the other hand, if all departments which are linked to registration would be better informed of their roles, this would also cut down the "Blues." The chief problem with registration is the wait (long lines) according to Ms. Sherice Hayes, Sophomore. The "meditation" comes as a result of whether or not your classes have been canceled, if you have an old bill or if all of your funds are here so says Mr. Claude Maye, Senior. Registration Blues strengthens the mind and forces our blood to rise as a result of the confusion. As long as we do our part, we can successfully defeat the problems which plague registration.

THE VISION OF NCCU

North Carolina Central University is more than just an "institution of higher learning". For most of us it is a home away from home. NCCU provides a feeling of togetherness. Out of this institution, have come many great Black Americans and NCCU continues to produce outstanding leaders.

Not only do Eagles have pride, but respect for their fellow eagles. There is a sense of closeness and dignity that radiates the Eagles nest. This closeness will carry us a long way in life. For "The Vision of NCCU lies Within Us"

The products of this academic environment, the alumni, are going out and making their place in the world, bringing with them the new ideas from their time at NCCU. The material presented in lectures, the speakers and the research all work together to make the Vision of NCCU come alive in the academic and scientific communities and in the minds of students.

DORM LIFE

Alhfff, living in dorms: electricity that doesn't work, 3 a.m. fire drills, washers that don't work and of course the fighting for the one hall phone that fifty ladies must share. Alright, alright, there are some good points: maids who clean up everyday and an endless supply of toilet paper and some friends who will last a life time. Who needs a change when you have all of this, but this change did come to Central.

New co-ed dorm system, the new system started the Spring semester of 1989. The system gave residents in Annie Day Shepard, Rush and Mclein co-ed on a daily basis and resident in Baynes, Eagleson and Chidley co-ed on a weekend basis. According to Tonya Weater a senior from Rocky Mount, "Co-ed gives students a chance to entertain a guest without everyone in your business."

Greta

The Young and the Restless

The life of a college student can be very hectic at times, we frequently discover that there are simply not enough hours in a day. The time is carefully divided among classes, co-curricular activities, studying and of course don't forget going out, this leaves little time for good old relaxation.

Just as other stressed out college students at other universities have their own favorite spots to relax we have our own. Each place has a lot to offer to the relaxer. It all depends on the person.

For the student who takes their relaxation seriously, the campus provides a variety of methods to do so. A jog or a game of jump rope does wonders to ease the tensions. As does a nap on one of the couches in the Student Union.

The Student Union provides the students a chance to stretch out and watch T.V. or just to sleep. Finding a place to relax is not the problem, finding time is.

Greta

“Let’s Do Lunch”

Other Choices

Pizza Inn.

Eating arrangements changed drastically from the previous semesters. On-campus students no longer had meal tickets, but a new meal identification card system. Students declared the new policy great for those on-campus students, but not for those students off-campus who used the cafeteria as a place to come and relax. The new policy cut back on long lines and produced a cleaner cafeteria. Administration says it also has saved lots of money. With the new policy you can go back and get as many servings as you desire. But there are no take-outs. So the question is to Do Lunch in or out?

The Computer Writing Center

Angela Harrison takes advantage of Computer Services

The Computer Writing Center was established during the summer of 1988. The Center primarily services most freshman composition classes. Most classes are required to attend the center. Several literature classes use the center as well. Graduate and Professional Schools Communication Skills Enhancement Program uses the center to help assist them in writing their master thesis. The Law School and Nursing Schools take advantage of the Center as well. For word processing the students use the Word Perfect Software. Also students use The Writers Workbench Grammar and Style Checker Software. This software allows the students to analyze their writing. It has been estimated that over one hundred students use the center each day. The Director of the Writing Center is Dr. Kenneth L. Chambers.

Christmas at NCCU

At North Carolina Central University Christmas is a very special time. The Alfonso Elder Student Union sponsors various activities along with The Office of the Student Affairs. The students sing Christmas Carols that are enjoyed by all. Above at (right) Students sing along with Dean Milton Lewis as Mrs. Thurman Prescott plays the piano. Above (Left) Every year the Student Union invites area day-care center children to help them celebrate Christmas. The children play games and they are served refreshments. The children also get to talk to Santa Claus. Below (Left) A Beautiful violin and piano solo was performed by an invited guest. During the day refreshments were served and the day was enjoyed by all.

FASHION

Students Express Their Personalities

"What in the world am I going to wear today?" This was a question that many students asked themselves every day, and everyday they came up with something new and different. Each student came up with something that made a statement — his or her statement. Fashion has always been used to express individual personalities, and the students at North Carolina Central University were always able to do this well. Lesson to be learned "Dress To Impress."

Alex

Salice Haith and Al Anderson are fashion conscious.

Lisa Pridgen portrays the DC look.

Bloodmobile

I GAVE BLOOD TODAY!

Involved is the word for North Carolina Central University Students. It was a year filled with many activities. Everybody remembers the "Be Nice To Me-I Gave Blood Today!" buttons. These were worn by many brave ones who shared a little of themselves to help another in the Blood Drive.

SENIORS

'Today is the Very First Day of the Rest of My Life

This is the beginning of a new day. I have been given this day to use as I WILL. I can waste it...or use it for good, but what I do today is important, because I am exchanging a day of my life for it! When tomorrow comes, this day will be gone forever, leaving in its place something that I have traded for it. I want it to be gain, and not loss; good and not evil; success, and not failure; in order that I shall not regret the price that I have paid for it. I will try just for today, for you never fail until you stop trying.

Carrying 18 hours may not seem like much to many, but add a job that requires 25 hours per week, and we're talking about a limited social life. Many NCCU seniors have such responsibility, but Jovetta Adams rises to the top. A member of the Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Inc., this 5th year "Super Senior" from Kingsport, Tennessee has good reason to be proud. Looking back at her stay here at NCCU, Jovetta has accomplished so much:

- Former President of NCCU Chapter of NCAE
- Former President of Alpha Chi Chapter of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Inc.
- Former Vice President of Honoraries In Action
- Junior Class Secretary
- Member of NAACP Executive Board
- Member of Alpha Kappa Mu Honor Society
- A Chancellor's Aide
- A Chancellor's Scholar

Despite her heavy work schedule, Jovetta still finds time for herself. When she isn't so busy, she enjoys singing, dancing, and satisfying her "curiosity for oddities."

Ms. Adams, an elementary education major, is preparing for a student teaching job in Haverport, Iowa. There she will be working under a former Central instructor in one of the best school systems in the country. In the future, Jovetta would like to professionally teach in the Charlotte Mecklenburg School System. While in Charlotte, she would study for her master's at UNC-Charlotte.

We here at NCCU express our pride and best wishes to Jovetta, as well as all our seniors. May you succeed in all you do and reach every goal set before you. Good Luck.

Jovetta extends these words: "Get all you can from your college experience—educationally, socially, and culturally."

Because of his excellence in the field of medicine, he was chosen to participate in the 1987 Future Doctors Summer Program at ECU's School of Medicine. Two of Edger's most outstanding honors include: being a MARC scholar and being named to Who's Who Among American Colleges and Universities two years (1987-88 and 1988-89).*

During his college career at NCCU, Edger has been involved in various extracurricular activities. He is a member of: the Gamma Beta Chapter of Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, Inc., the Pre-professional Health Society, the American Chemical Society, the Student Government Association, the NAACP, Bron Vivant Fashion and Modeling Society, the E.E. Just Biology Club, the Pan-Hellenic Council and the German Club. In addition, Edger was 2nd Attendant to Mr. Homecoming 1988-89 and has made the Dean's List and Honor Roll.

Upon graduation, Mr. Malher plans to obtain his Ph.D and M.D. degrees, respectively. His dream is to open his own research medical healthcare facility.

Edger leaves us with his motto of wisdom: "Academic excellence is a virtue, therefore, it promotes a never ending quest to achieve."

Proud To Call NCCU My Home

Lillian Jones Bowser, a native of Littleton, North Carolina, is a Public Administration major.

While pursuing her degree on a part-time basis, she has worked a full-time job as Purchasing Assistant at North Carolina Mutual Life Insurance Company.

Lillian is married to a data processing executive and the mother of two daughters.

Lillian, in her three roles of wife, mother, and student, keeps a full schedule, but still finds time to be active in her church and community.

Upon graduation, Lillian plans to pursue a masters degree in management.

A Road Well Worth Traveling

The road that I have traveled has not been the typical road most Americans take, but I must say it has its rewards. Completing high school in 1962 and receiving a Secretarial Science degree in 1964 gave me the motivation I needed to set my goals of obtaining a higher education degree. It took me almost 15 years to get back in school, but I found it is never too late to complete my education. I was surprised to find out that life experiences and work experiences I have had in those years have given me a road map as a career guide.

At NCCU, the instruction is most outstanding. The professors are very positive and most helpful. It is good to be on a college campus where I feel that I am somebody.

During my years of study, commuting 100 miles each day and holding down a full-time job did not allow me the time needed to participate in campus activities. I am, however, a member of several community organizations and serve on a major health center board.

I would suggest to the young person who is planning to attend college that he or she study hard in high school and take those advanced courses needed to pursue life's rewards. Enrolling at NCCU has opened so many doors for me, and now I have the opportunity to choose where I want to be in the 15-20 years.

My future plans are to seek political office and explore the fields of music and theater. A Master's Degree in Counseling or Public Administration is in the plan.

A THOUSAND WORDS

The Freshmen Are So New!

William C. Harris, III

They call the new ones freshmen
No other beast was named so right
For they fit on campus like designer jeans
They're crisp and pressed and new and tight

Some of them come to leave their mark
You hear it in the way you speak
Who am I to let them know
They cannot do it in the first week

Others come to seek acceptance
See them hanging in little cliques
And talking in these boisterous groups
Sometimes will get them in a fix

They're bold, aggressive, daring and sure
They're masters of the games they play
Is there a doubt in anyone's mind
That they only got here yesterday
From across the yard they strut their stuff
Not sure what to say or do
Experienced frat bros are heard to exclaim
"Aye baby, why you wanna act so new?"

We kid the freshman because he's new
We tease her still because it's new
That they never flown before
That this will be their learning year

But make no mistake where we're coming from
For we welcome you into our embraces
Cause every university
Needs fresh ideas and brand new faces

Sophomoric Slang

When you were first born you had a few favorite words. They may have only been da-da, ma-ma and ba ba but, they were your words. As you grew older your favorite words were: "I didn't do nothin'", "But Why?!", and "It Won't Me!". When you were a Preteen and thought you were grown, words like Dag!, Shoot!, "I Know It!", and "I'm Serious!" became part of your everyday vocab. Once you became a teenager, and later an ADULT your words changed. Profanity and Slang was the only thing you knew.

HERE ARE SOME OF YOURS BASIC WORDS!!

YOU'RE DAMN SKIPPY!

YEAH, RIGHT!

WHAT IS IT? A BLAZARD?
AND I'M NOT GONNA DO IT!

OH, IT'S LIKE THAT NOW?

BUT, UM-UM!

IT PAY DAY!

IT'S A BLACK THANG!

OH TRUST!

I JUST DON'T UNDERSTAND!

BUT LOOK!

I THOUGHT YOU KNEW!

THAT'S OUT GIRLFRIEND!

IT DON'T EVEN MATTER!

THIS IS TRUT!

AND THAT'S NO LI, I MIGHT ADD!
SEE! HELLO! SEE! THANK YOU!

Juniors: Sleeping On the Job

Do you suffer from Headdrops, fluttering eyelids, and Cridmark face? Does note writing not only make your hand and arm, but a whole body go to sleep? Does the monotone sound of your Professor's voice lull you to sleep? If so, you may be suffering from an IN-CLASS-SLEEP DISORDER!!!

This disorder could cause great embarrassment. You could awaken to see strange faces surrounding you while the Professor stifles snickers; you fall out of the desk, you might discover that you talked in your sleep and told your innermost secrets, and a fate worse than death, YOU SLOBBLE ALL OVER YOUR DISK!!!

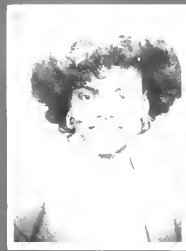

So, if you feel your head dropping, wake up and save yourself some embarrassment!

"If There Is No Struggle . . .
. . . There Is No Progress"

Kimberly Bassett and Mark Lyons, soaring to "New Dimensions."

"Working together as one." The North Carolina Central University student body has proven that they can work together as one. With leaders as Kimberly Bassett — President and Mark Lyons, Vice-President, our student body has entered a new phase in our daily campus lives. These two exceptional young students have shown that "Together We Stand, Divided We Fall."

Kimberly Bassett and Mark Lyons, a great asset to our student body and Student Government Association. They have demonstrated that "Where there is Unity, There is Strength." Through hard labor, these two have implanted within the students here at NCCU that "TOGETHERNESS" is the key! Working together as one, Kim and Mark are one in a Million!!!!

The Worship and Praise Inspirational Mass Choir is a group of unique young people from different parts of the U.S. From states such as Massachusetts, New York, Pennsylvania, North Carolina, Virginia, Georgia, New Jersey, and District of Columbia, W.P.I. seeks to spread the Good news of Jesus Christ through the ministry of music. W.P.I.'s motto "Where there is unity, there is Strength," sinks deep into the hearts of its members. This choir has appeared on programs with famous gospel recording stars such as Shirley Caesar and Commission.

"Where There is Unity, There is Strength"

This year the Worship and Praise Inspirational Choir held their Anniversary in B.N. Duke Auditorium. Choirs from surrounding colleges attended. Attending were UNC-G, Fayetteville State, Shaw, UNC-C. The featured choir, Fayetteville State, electrified the audience with their exhilarating voices and dynamic choreography. They set the tone for the entrance of the NCCU Worship and Praise Inspirational Choir.

ARMY ROTC

ARMY ROTC is a four year program divided into two parts called the Basic course and the Advanced course. Program which offers college students the opportunity to graduate as officers and to serve in the U.S. Army, the Army National Guard, or the U.S. Army Reserve. The Army ROTC program at North Carolina Central University is an extension of the Duke University Army ROTC program. NCCU cadets made history in the Duke program when they received the highest scores during the Camp All American, which is held annually for all cadets in the Eastern part of the United States. NCCU AROTC cadets have been active more this year than before. The formation of the color guard by Franklin Robinson has been a positive influence in regards to each cadet's participation in AROTC. The cadets have been involved in numerous events that include; the Miss NCCU Coronation, Homecoming parade, Founder's Day program, sports events, and many other occasions to come.

BODY MOVEMENT

Costumes. Choreography. Dance shoes. Practice. Talent. What does it all add up to? The North Carolina Central University Dance Ensemble, of course!!

The Ensemble is under the artistic direction of Nancy Pickney. She has succeeded in creating a gifted program not to be overlooked. The dance company consists of approximately 14 students selected by audition.

CHOIRBALL '88

Masters of Ceremony: Oland Stokes and Cleophus Daniels.

Charles Hyman comfort his members with a brief sermon during the gospel section.

Along with great musical selections, Choir Ball features a variety of skits and commercials. Each year, this variety show is sponsored and performed by the NCCU Choir members and it traditionally begins the Homecoming Activities.

This year the Masters of Ceremony were Cleophus Daniels and Oland Stokes. They provided just the right touch of humor for a pleasurable evening.

The performances ranged from a soul stirring rendition of "After the Love Has Lost It's Shine" to a spoof of Mike Tyson's famous Pepsi commercial in which the champ of the ring proves he is the champ at home, also. Featured commercials included: spoofs of the Merouare Brownie and "sharing is caring" from the Church of the Latter Day Saints. In addition to fun and frolic were romantic songs such as, "I Owe You Me".

The theme of Choir Ball 1988 was "Choirball: the Master of Your Dreams"; however, the theme could have been, "Don't Worry, Be Happy". Choir Ball 1988 was a show of glamour and excitement and as expected, the audience didn't worry and were extremely happy.

YoYoYoYOO! The Homecoming Show

From rap to go-go to the sultry sounds of a black diva, Homecoming Concert 1988 was a two show four act affair.

Show one, Friday, featured the rappers Biz Markie, T.J. Swann, and Big Daddy Kane, the master of hip hop, with his two home-boys rocked the house. The Eagles partied through the night and until the early morning hours.

Show two, Saturday, featured E.U. (Experienced Unlimited) and Mikki Howard. With the strong beat of such remakes as "Shake Yo Thang", and "Doin' Da Butt", E.U., the Prince's of Go-Go, pumped the crowd. But, when Mikki Howard swooned in her most sultry voice "Baby Be Mine" the crowd responded with a token of their appreciation—a standing ovation.

Homecoming Concert 1988 was the total up-most-YA DAMN SKIPPY!

"Ain't No Half Stepping"

“Homecoming Step Show 88”

The homecoming stepshow brought many exciting changes to the Greeks. The Gamma Beta Chapter of the Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity Inc. won the stepshow after they surprised the audience with a skit satirizing the other fraternities. But their performance was more than just satire. The Brothers broke down to hard stepping and reminded the crowd that they were the first. The Alpha Chi Chapter of the Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority excited the crowd as they unveiled their high stepping radio music hall type stepshow with "It's A Very Serious Matter", and the ladies of DST not to be undoubted stepped hard to popular hits and old stepshow favorites. Back from the past, stepping hard led by Mike Flowers, the Brothers of Iota Phi Theta Fraternity debuted with an up-tempo routine step style of the south with up tempo moves of Hip Hop.

Oh Yeah!!

Good Life and Good Living

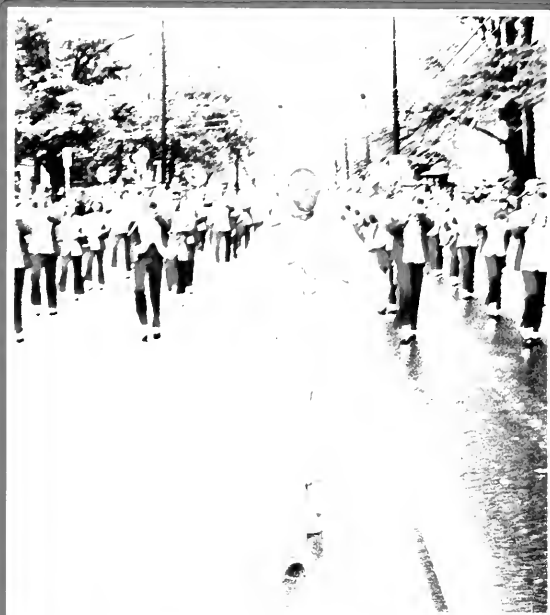

Skillfully combining hip-hop beats with the latest dance moves, the North Carolina Central University Marching Band — the 130 member Sound Machine, performs the “Freak of the Week” at every home game.

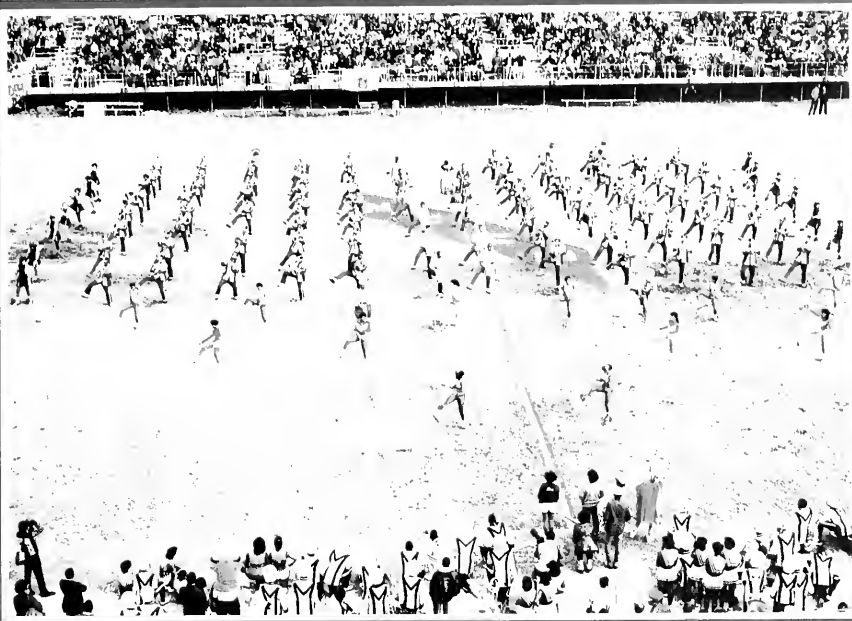

The Sound Machine continuously pumps up the crowd with such jams as “Shake Yo Thang” and “Just Got Paid” throughout the game. Playing such songs at “Let Me Bring You Down” and “Thanks For My Child” stirs the crowd into an emotional frenzy. After each game, the band literally parties from the stand of O’Kelly Stadium to the band room followed by an enthusiastic crowd mimicking their every step, their every move.

To make sure that the Sound comes out of the Machine and that the Freak is the best of the Week, director Jerry Head and assistant director Mozell Long consistently drill the members every weekday during the season. “That old saying ‘practice makes perfect’ is no joke,” states saxophone player Beverly Winstead after a rigorous routine of music and dance. “Although the practice is demanding,” adds co-drum major DeMorris Lee, “those few moments on the field is a natural high for me.”

Undoubtedly, the Sound Machine is the musical representative of North Carolina Central University. They musically combine up-tempo beats with down-beat songs to entertain their biggest fans and supporters — friends and family of N.C.C.U.

Facing The Challenge

NCCU Football

The 1985 Eagles entered the season preparing to improve their record of the previous year. The challenges the Eagles faced may have looked dim to others, but for the NCCU Football Team they had something to prove. The Eagles first game was against the "Aggies" of A & T. Excitement could be felt everywhere from the fans, to the cheerleaders, to the football team themselves. Besides this being the first game of the season they had to open up against a powerhouse "the Aggies", but they soon found out that "Aggie Pride" is nothing compared to "Eagle Funk", as the Eagles beat the "Aggies" 15-2. The Eagles next three games were away and the Eagles prevailed in all three games. The Eagles played Norfolk State on RET (Black Entertainment Television) and won.

So, the Eagles were on a roll with a 4-0 record with one win at home and three wins on the road. They returned home to play a tough Virginia Union team that remembered the loss they suffered from NCCU the year before. The Panthers pounded the Eagles all night. The unbeaten Eagles went from "dreams to defeat" and everyone wondered where was that Eagle team that had played so well in the first four games.

After this disappointing loss the Eagles came back, practiced hard and got themselves together. The Eagles knew they had some tough games ahead of them and they could not let one game stand in their way of playing for the CIAA Championship. So, while most of us went home for Fall Break the Eagles were getting ready to travel to Salisbury, NC to meet Livingstone College. The Livingstone Bears became the next victims of the NCCU Eagles, as the Eagles routed the Bears 47-0. A very impressive win and the Eagles "took no prisoners." The Eagles then came home and played host to Elizabeth City. During the first part of the game the Vikings came out and played NCCU hard, but they too became victims of the Eagle team that was terrorizing their opponents.

After this win, the biggest game of the season was to be played the following week. Some felt this game would decide who would win the conference and who would play in the CIAA Championship, it was the "Bams" of Winston-Salem State against the Eagles. You could feel the excitement in the air, it was everywhere and the Eagles were ready to prove that they were "a force to be reckoned with". The game was one of many turn-overs, but late in the game the Eagles went up 20-19 and that was it. The Eagles had defeated the "Bams" and the fans went crazy. On the sidelines and up in the stands you could hear "Wow, Yeah" as the team, cheerleaders, and the fans felt real good.

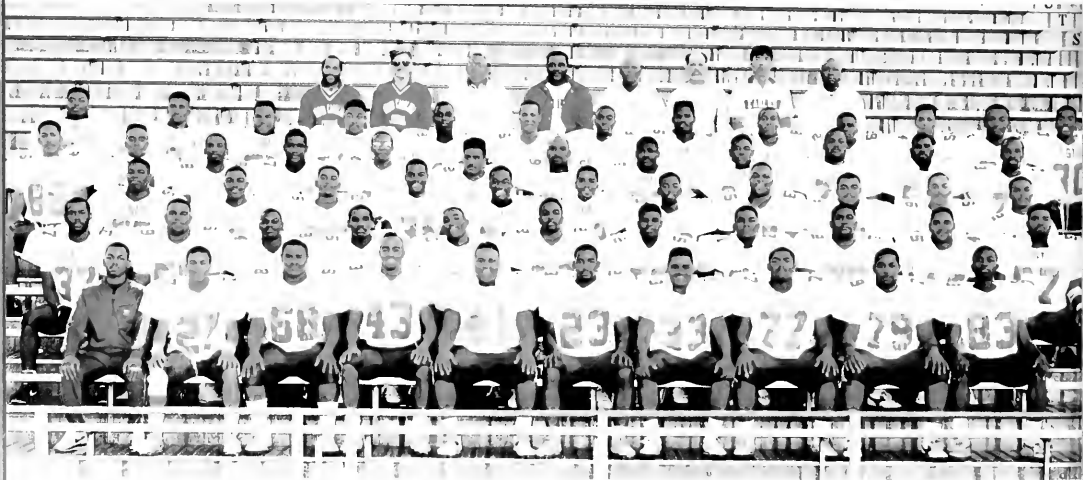

After coming off a very impressive win over the "Bams" the Eagles traveled to Bowie MD to try an unbeaten Bowie team. The game was close and turn-overs plagued the Eagles all day. The Eagles came from behind to tie the game. Since the Eagles did not win the game they were eliminated from playing for the CIAA Championship. The Eagles returned home to play Johnson C. Smith for homecoming. This would be a big game, if the Eagles won they would get a playoff berth in the Division II Playoffs for the NCAA. This would be the last Homecoming game for the Seniors as members of the NCCU Football Team. Of course Johnson C. Smith was victimized by the Eagles. So, the Eagles got a playoff berth and their first opponent was the Bams of Winston-Salem State. Having beaten the Bams once, the Eagles knew the Bams would be ready to play. Yet, no one expected the game to turn out the way it did. The Eagles rolled to an impressive 31-16 win and it was on to Sacramento Calif. for the next round of the playoffs.

The Eagles played a tough Sacramento State team that defeated the Eagles 56-7. Despite the loss, the Eagles proved to themselves and to others that they were one of the best teams around.

We congratulate the coaches, staff, and the team for a successful season. We acknowledge the following players for being chosen as Honor Players for the 1985 year. All CIAA First Team Players are: Kenneth Guidry, Robert Massey, Earl Harvey, and Anthony Cooley. All CIAA Second Team are: Anthony Sterling, Willie Buckley, Tony Lindsey, and Gerald Mack. Robert Massey was a Senior Bowl and Shrine Bowl selection. The six Freedom Bowl selections are: Robert Massey, Tony Lindsey, Dari- us Robinson, Earl Harvey, Gerald Mack, and Kenneth Guidry. Earl Harvey was a candidate for Division II Player of the Year, (CIAA Player of the Year), and Pigskin Club. Congratulations to all of these fine players for a successful season.

"... tell me whatchu going to do ..."

"... I want to see a 2-3 zone ..."

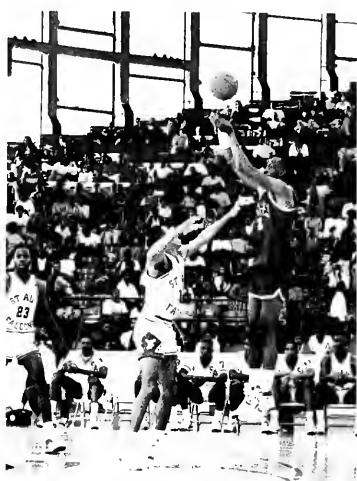

The 1989 Men's Basketball Team had a lot of expectations to live up to. The team won the Southern Division of the CIAA and finished the season ranked 8th in the nation. With hard defense the team dominated their division last year and has dominated their division this year. Coached by Micheal Bernard and assistant coaches Greg Jackson and Ron Woodard the NCCU Men's Basketball Team has become a force in the CIAA and in the nation. In addition, the team has won the Bull City Tournament, Perreco Cup Tournament, and placed second in the CIAA Tournament which was held at the Norfolk Scope Arena in February. The members of the NCCU Men's Basketball Team are: Eric Jackson, Marvin Reed, Keirrick Thompson, Charles Alston, Sean Kearney, Joel Hopkins, Antoine Sifford, Jeffery Hayes, Derriek Johnson, Miles Clarke, Fred Bennett, Henry Canty, Curtis Watkins, Dominique Stephens, and Adrian McKinnon. # Lady Eagles . . . Winners at Heart

The Ladies Basketball Team is coached by Jackie Pinnix and she is assisted by Hassan Nashad and Randy Walker. The members of the team are: Debbie Bellomy, Sheremey Dillard, Connie Taylor, Sherai Price, Michele Darensburg, Lenora McDaniel, Lisa Brown, Felecia Nicholson, Anissa Graham, Angel Seymour, Pamc Sawyer, and Stephanie Bullock. The Ladies Basketball Team is still in a rebuilding stage. They are a very young group of athletes, but they are promising also. We hope the Ladies Team will pull-off some up-sets at the CIAA Tournament. Also, best of luck for the rest of the season.

Coach Pinnix leads a group discussion.

Cheerleaders Facing The Challenge

Phyllis Lawson, Sonya Spates, and Danita Hicks take time to show their school spirit.

At NCCU and around the country, cheerleaders are being recognized as being athletes instead of cute girls in short skirts. Cheerleaders at NCCU are making this transition and these changes were evident on chilly Saturday nights in O'Kelly Stadium and in the heart of McDougald gym. The days of "firecracker, firecracker, boom-boom-bom" are gone, the cheers and the chants have become more structured. A lot of hard work goes into cheering. The cheerleaders are responsible for cheering at football and basketball games and representing the University at other events. NCCU cheerleaders started practice in August in order to get ready for the football season. In addition to leading cheers for the fans, the squad presents a chant, cheer, and stunt to visiting squad and fans at each football game. If the football team makes it to post season play, the cheerleaders find themselves cheering at the football and basketball game during the same week. In addition to cheering, each cheerleader must maintain a (2.0) G.P.A. Cheerleading season lasts from August to March and it requires at least two (2) hour practices a week. These athletes sacrifice a lot to cheer for their teams, and they show a lot of school spirit. For their dedication, we commend the CHEERLEADERS: Danita Hicks, Sonya Spates, Terri Corbit, Vicki Hussey, Diana Williams (captain) Wanda Lane (co-captain), Natalie Booker and Phyllis Lawson. We also commend their advisor Ms. Alyce Little.

"N.C.C.U.
Whatcha gonna do
N.C.C.U.
Whatcha gonna do
I say you work real hard . . ."

And the J.V. Cheerleaders certainly live up to that last line. Cheering only during the Women's basketball games, they liven the crowd with a combination of peppy and jazzy routines. Practicing at least seven hours per week, the Junior Varsity works to perfect all routines, chants, and jumps that they perform during the games.

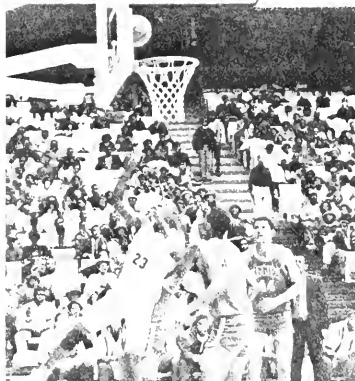

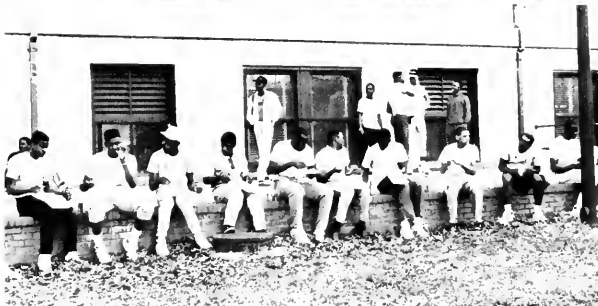

"I say you work real hard
To get the job done
But, if you a'int sufficient once
Ya gotta work it out twice!!!"

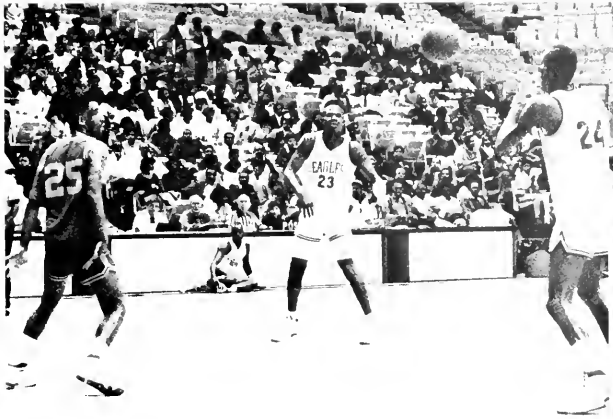

The squad for 1988-89 are: Teri Knight (captain), Tonya Bennett (co-captain), Paula Long, Alicia Broadway, and Darian Street. Alicia, one of the most enthusiastic members, states, "I like going to the games to cheer the girls on — whether it be a victory or a loss — I still have fun." "It's also a great way to meet new people, whether they are cheerleaders, basketball players, or just the crowd," adds Teri.

Many people are unaware that NCCU has a volleyball team. Coming into this years season, the Eagles' confidence was high. Coached by Mrs. Sandra T. Shuler the Lady Eagles won their first game at home against Livingston College. This win showed the strategies that the team would use throughout the season. Staging upset victories over UNC-Asheville, North Carolina A&T, Winston-Salem State, and Hampton University. The Lady Eagles finished their regular season with an impressive 16-9 record.

During the CIAA Tournament at Elizabeth City State University, the Eagles were victorious against Virginia State, 15-1, and 15-13; and Winston-Salem State, 15-9 and 15-5. However, they were beaten by the Hampton University Lady Pirates. The Eagles finished the tournament in fifth place among the fourteen teams.

During the 1988-89 season, the Lady Eagles were led by Wendy Pitts, the teams only Senior. Wendy served as the captain of the team, and she was named to the All CIAA Conference Team.

Congratulations to the Lady Eagles Volleyball Team and to coach Shuler on successful Season.

The work on a yearbook can be enjoyable or torturous depending on the “character” of the staff. This years staff has been the most competent, creative, and conscientious to date. As the result of Editor in Chief Greta M. Barnes, and Associate Editor in Chief C. Alexis Young, the Yearbook has run incredibly smoothly for a student publication. Because of the two Editors mature, competent, and organized approach, we were able to produce a Yearbook. However, this beautiful yearbook could not have been created without the team effort of each individual on the staff.

EDITOR'S NOTES Greta M. Barnes

I thought my first time as Editor of the Eagle was going to be a breeze. Yeah Right! With two years of yearbook production experience, I knew I could do the job. "The Vision of NCCU Lies Within Us" is our theme for the Eagle. This vision helped me and my staff, without whose help I would not have succeeded.

There are so many people who deserve thanks for their help in the production of the Eagle; inevitably some will go unmentioned but keep in mind not unappreciated. First I would like to thank the Delmar Company for making my first year as Editor as easy as possible. To our Representative Jim Hunter, thanks for all the time you spent with us as we constantly changed our minds as to what we really wanted.

To those students who are as a group responsible for the great success of this publication. . . all of you deserve a round of applause. But there are those who were exceptional. To C. Alexis Young the best Associate Editor in Chief an Editor could have, thanks for standing by my side through the frustrations of producing a great book.

The most pleasant and unexpected surprise came from Felice McNeil. With no past experience in yearbook production your performance has been great. I must acknowledge the tremendous efforts of Simon Kearney the best photographer and friend an Editor could hope for and to his assistants Bertha Franklin and Janice Hobbs; thanks for all your dedication to photography. Thanks also to Willie Wiggins, Shannon Thompson, Phyllis Lawson, Cynthia Daye, Leslie Steele, Sherice Hayes, Veronica Vick and Willa Robinson.

Last of all but certainly not least, thanks to my best friend Cynthia Daye and to the best advisor an Editor could ever have Curtis Daye. I would like to thank all those people who supported me personally, Miss NCCU-Sonya Laws, Edgar Walker, Eric Spann, Cheryl Smith, Stanly Durham and the Gamma Beta Chapter of the Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity Inc.

Thanks to my family who are the greatest, without them I would not have made it.

It has been great, I hope I can continue to serve you in the future.

Greta Barnes

ASSOCIATE EDITOR'S NOTES

C. Alexis Young

As I sat down to write this note, I first had to stop and recall not only my two years on staff but my two years at NCCU. There was never a time of one without the other. I have come a long way from being a volunteer to taking a seat in the Associate Editors Chair. For the last couple of years the yearbook has had bad publicity. Along with the Editor in Chief it was my job to put the yearbook back on the Map. And with a staff of twelve we did it. My ideas would have never come together without the help of Editor in Chief, Greta M. Barnes and the staff. Their hard work, dedication and patience is what put the Eagle Yearbook back on the Map. They made it "The Vision of NCCU" come alive and captured it in a book.

Taking into consideration all the frustrations, late nights, workshops, and deadlines. I know it was a job well done and well worth the effort. The first person I would like to thank is God. For without Him, this publication would not have come about. I would like to thank Phyllis Lawson for being a great assistant. Also, thanks goes to Sherice Hayes, Veronica Vick, Shannon Thompson, Felice McNeil, Janice Hobbs, Willa Robinson, Carla Alston, Conard Sturdivant, Bertha Franklin and my favorite and best of friends Hettie Eason. A special thanks to Kim Smith and Sarah D. Cooper. The person who did understand was always there when needed. He always listened with an open mind and never once lost his temper. I have grown to respect Curtis Daye as not only the advisor to the yearbook but as a dear friend. And to you, the Student Body, thanks for letting me be your Associate Editor.

A CREDIT EARNED

The yearbook is produced on a daily basis. The work is performed by three hired staff and 12 volunteers. The writing and photography are the staff's responsibility and is hopefully done in good taste. The staff makes every attempt to be accurate and apologizes for errors.

United Christian Campus Ministry

NCUU has deep religious roots having been started by Dr. Shepard in past to train ministers for the Gospel and Church pastorates. Although there has been change and development over its 50 years of existence, great religious interest, activity, tolerance and respect is yet present.

It is my tremendous honor to serve as campus Minister to this great University. As I continue my tenure, the challenge is ever before me to provide many opportunities for religious development to students, faculty and staff. At the same time, it is my task to always build bridges between the religious student groups and local churches to enhance mutual and beneficial service.

May this ministry forever be unto "the Glory of God" as "Needs meet opportunity in Ministry."

Modern Foreign Languages

NCCU Summer Study In France 1988

N.C.C.U.'s first Summer Study In France was held during the month of July 1988.

Students attended classes at the University of Nice and participated in a variety of cultural activities in Southern France. They then spent a week in Paris.

The participants were: Gia Gordon, Rebecca Green, Marissa Harris, Iyra Leazer, Ken Smith, Phyllis Stadler and Brook Whiteford.

Department of DRAMATIC ARTS

The Department of Dramatic Arts opened its 1988-89 season with a show stopping production of Dreamgirls, by Tom Egan and Henry Krieger. The popular Broadway musical is based on the rise of a female vocal group loosely resembling the Supremes. This production had an astounding eight day run with two encore demand performances. The cast featured Pamela Jones as Effie, Charles Hyman as Curtis and Irving Truitt as Jimmy Early. This production was honored to have Ben Harney as special guest for the production's gala. Mr. Harney won a Tony Award for Best Actor and a Drama Desk Award for his interpretations of his role in the Broadway production of Dreamgirls.

Other productions this season included: The Island, a story of Apartheid; One Mo' Time, a comedy of a love triangle and Mother Hicks, a drama about an orphan girl struggling to find a name and a home.

The NCCU Department of Dramatic Arts is chaired by Dr. Linda Kerr-Norflett and is hosted by her diligent faculty and staff. The department's productions are supported by the Triangle Park Chapter of the Links Incorporated and friends of the Drama Department. Through their help, the NCCU Dramatic Department has been able to expand its program and engage sources of master artists to work with specific productions. The NCCU Drama Department productions have successfully participated in state, regional and national competition.
